

My Neighborhood Map

After exploring different neighborhoods in-person, virtually, or through reading a book this summer, use the space below to draw a map of your own neighborhood. Be sure to include where you live, where you go to school, and any other landmarks surrounding your neighborhood.

A map key uses symbols, colors, or lines to identify important places or landmarks on a map. Create your own key in the boxes below to represent places and landmarks in your neighborhood. Draw your symbol and label it.

Bonus Activity: On a separate sheet of paper, explain how you get to your favorite place in your neighborhood from your house. Use details and directions in your explanation.
